The fourth novel in Ursula Hegi ' s acclaimed Burgdorf cycle is " a thoughtful, sidelong approach to the worst moment in Germany ' s history that invites us to understand how decent people come to collaborate with evil " (Kirkus Reviews). Children and Fire tells the story of one day that will forever transform the lives of the people in Burgdorf, Germany, the fictitious village by the river in Ursula Hegi ' s bestselling novels. February 27, 1934—the first anniversary of the burning of Reichstag, the Parliament building in Berlin. Thekla Jansen, a gifted young teacher, loves her students and tries to protect them from the chaos beyond their village. Believing the Nazis ' new regime will not last forever, Thekla begins to relinquish some of her freedoms to keep her teaching position. She has always taken her moral courage for granted, but when each compromise chips away at that courage, she knows she must reclaim it. Ursula Hegi funnels pivotal moments in history through the experience of Thekla, her students, and the townspeople as she writes along the edge where sorrow and bliss meet, and shows us how one society—educated, cultural, compassionate—can slip into a reality that ' s fabricated by propaganda and controlled by fear. Gorgeously rendered and emotionally taut, Children and Fire confirms Ursula Hegi ' s position as one of the most distinguished writers of her generation.

Food activist Richardson shows readers how sustainable agriculture offers the only solution to the world's food and environmental crises. A call to action for those who are concerned about what they eat and the health of the planet.

This book considers the recent growth of tourism in transitional societies in Latin America and the Caribbean. Research in Cuba, Mexico, Nicaragua, and Peru reveals that tourism often takes up where social transformation leaves off and may even benefit from the formerly off-limits status of nations that have undergone periods of conflict or rebellion.

This book explores how the EU ' s enforcement of competition law has moved from centralisation to decentralisation over the years, with the National Competition Authorities embracing more enforcement powers. At the same time, harmonisation has been employed as a solution to ensure that the enforcement of EU competition rules is not weakened and the internal market remains a level playing field. While employing a comparative law argument, the book, accordingly, analyses the need for harmonisation throughout the different stages of development of the EU ' s competition law enforcement (save Merger control and State Aid), the underlying rationale, and the extent to which comparative studies have been undertaken to facilitate the harmonisation process from an historical perspective. It also covers the Directives, such as the Antitrust Damages Directive and the ECN+ Directive. Investigating both public and private enforcement, it also examines the travaux pr é paratoires for the enforcement legislation in order to discover the drafters ' intent. The book addresses the European and the Member States ' perspectives, namely, the Central and Eastern European (CEE) countries, as harmonisation proceeds through dialogue and cooperation between the two levels. Lastly, it explores the extent to which harmonisation of the competition law enforcement framework has been accepted and implemented in the Member States ' legal systems, or has led to the fragmentation of the national systems of the CEE countries.

This book is about a 14 year old girl who goes on a diet and is transformed from being extremely overweight and insecure to a normal sized girl who becomes the school soccer star. Through time, exercise and hard work, Maggie becomes more and more confident and develops a positive self image.

Bobby Foster, carhop at the chic Cafe Comedie, is going to the gas chamber. He's already confessed to the murder of Tracy Kostakos, the club's rising star. But two years after the crime, Tracy's body is still missing and Bobby's confession is full of holes. All Souls Legal Cooperative's final appeal sends San Francisco's number one PI Sharon McCone behind the footlights into the super-charged arena of anxious club owners and aspiring young hopefuls, into the fractured world of Tracy's privileged family and the mind of a young comedienne who was not the good little girl they thought they knew, and into a labyrinth of death and deception where someone will kill to laugh last and get away with murder.

The fact that Agnes Jacobs, a half-breed North American Mohawk Indian, aspired to greatness and succeeded, for a time, is a story worth telling. A liberated women way before the term became fashionable, at seventeen, she cohabited with a young, full-blooded Mohawk, who in her opinion showed no gumption. She took off to make her fortune at the St. George Hotel in Ottawa, Ontario. She returned to her village and opened up the busiest, little speakeasy on the New York State and Canada border...at the height of the Prohibition Era. There she met a man worthy of her admiration-a state trooper who came to raid her speakeasy. She dared to show her feminine side, only to lose him to her youngest daughter Mary. Mary, needy for her mother's affections, endured her mother's wrath. Despondent over losing her two little girls to scarlet fever and pneumonia, she gave up and joined her two precious angels. She left her youngest, Eostenuni, age three, for her mother, Agnes, to bring up.
